Timely Tidbits ...

Baby Shower Benefit

Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America members from Romulus High School and Romulus Middle School will host a community-wide baby shower in the RHS cafeteria on Saturday, March 12, at 11 a.m.

Cost of admission to the event, which will benefit needy newborns, is one new, unwrapped baby item (crocheted or knitted afghans or sweaters would be greatly appreciated). To RSVP, contact Phyllis Wilkerson (734-532-1077) or Betty Santo (532-1824) by March 4.

Spring Craft Show

The Romulus Progressive Club will host its Spring Craft Show at Progressive Hall (11580 Ozga) on Saturday, April 23, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Featured items will include baskets, wreaths, jewelry, hand-painted clothing, candles, and more. Space is still available for crafters/vendors who would like to participate. For more information, call the hall (734-941-3044), Jim Poet (718-3137) or Diane Poet (942-7195).

Choir Fund-raiser

The Romulus school district's choir program is urging the community to support its upcoming fund-raiser. Throughout March, from 3 and 9 p.m., residents will be contacted by phone and asked to purchase items such as delicious frozen pizza, gourmet coffee samplers, Amish-style fudge, cookie dough, and household items. All products will be delivered to your door, with no delivery charge or tip required. For information, contact Marva Hatcher (734-532-1063).

RCS Kindergarten Enrollment Still Open

Romulus Community Schools continues to accept enrollment for its all-day/every-day and half-day/every-day kindergarten programs for the 2005–2006 school year. Children who will be five years old as of December 1, 2005, are eligible. For more information, contact your neighborhood school. □

Canine Couple Raise $1,700+ for New Shelter

The recent "marriage" of Linda Norman's Yorkshire terriers, Sophie (left) and Gizmo, was a sweet deal – not just for the bride and groom, who shared a wedding cake after the ceremony, but also for their furry friends, who are now more than $1,700 closer to a new Romulus Animal Shelter thanks to generous donations from those who attended the fund-raiser.

The Friends of the New Romulus Animal Shelter Fund is now more than $1,700 richer, thanks to a festive fund-raiser held at the Romulus Senior Center on February 19.

With the help of dozens of dedicated volunteers, Linda Norman, director of senior-citizen programs for the City of Romulus, organized a doggie wedding for her Yorkshire Terriers, Gizmo and Sophie, and invited all who attended to make donations to the Animal Shelter Fund in lieu of wedding gifts.

The event was an enormous success. A standing-room-only crowd of nearly 175 people turned out to see Romulus Mayor Alan R. Lambert officiate over the ceremony uniting the canine couple.

"I think this event was a great way to raise money for a new Romulus Animal Shelter," said Lambert. "It was fun and different, and residents in the Romulus community came out to support it because it benefited such a worthy and deserving cause."

Councilman Bill Wadsworth, who has made the construction of a new animal shelter his "pet project," good-naturedly served as best man to Gizmo the groom. Although he probably endured more than a little teasing, it was all worth it in the end, since the doggie wedding raised the third-largest Animal Shelter Fund donation to date.

Norman couldn't say enough about the many people whose hard work made the program such a success.

"It took the efforts of dozens of people to bring this off," she explained. "Between the costumes and the decorations, the refreshments and the entertainment, it was a really big job."

Among those credited in the wedding program were:

- Cheryl Blanton (wedding planner),
- Lynn Conway (bridal fashion designer),
- Lyle Place (photography),

- Madison Kusibab (Sophie's handler),
- Brooke Hilyer (with maid of honor "Ginger"),
- Mary Ann Ryznar (with bridesmaid "Meggan")
- Sharon Gurner (with groomsman "Max"),
- Brianna Banko (ring-bearer),
- Sylvia Dubisky (wedding march),
- "The Wanna Bees" – Cheryl Blanton, Mary Ann Ryznar, Theresa Bizek, Theresa Golembiewski, Hester Mostoller, and Jo Ann Demick (entertainment),
- Betty Lenossi (transportation),
- Nikki Place, Melissa Kusibab, and Alice Gilbert (servers), and
- Sister Act (caterers).

Those who missed the ceremony will have a second chance to enjoy it at noon on Wednesday, March 15, when the Romulus Senior Center will show a videotape of the event on its big-screen TV.

Everyone is welcome. □

Cory "Inspirational Music Night" Celebrated Black History Month

An Inspirational Music Night held at Cory Elementary on February 9 kicked off the school's celebration of Black History Month on a high note. Welcoming guests to the program, which drew a large crowd to the Cory gymnasium, were principal Phyllis Adkins, Pastor Arthur Willis of the Pentecostal Missionary Baptist Church, and Olivia Madison.

Hosting the program was Romulus High School Guidance Department secretary Ellen Bragg, a vocalist/keyboardist who is also the minister of music at Christ Temple of Refuge Church. She was joined by her own choir members for several numbers that had everyone on their feet, singing and clapping.

Also performing were members of the Cory Choir, under the direction of Kevin Cook; First Baptist Church of Romulus deacon Eric Talley, Sr.; and Cory students Valiece Davis and Larissa, Leydiana, and Leticia Gittens.

Additional vocal selections were sung by LaJoya Rush, Margaret Caulson, Shamera Hill, and Patricia Willis.

Dance performances were given by Monique Talley, Ashley Johnson, and the Christ Temple of Refuge Youth Dancers.

Bringing the program to a close was "Midst of Lions," a Christian band led by RHS graduate Patrick Webb. The group, which just released its first CD, received a standing ovation after performing three uplifting selections.

Other Cory programs commemorating Black History Month included a play about Michael Jordan and a soul-food dinner. □

Capitol Update

A "Guest Commentary" column by State Representative Hoon-Yung Hopgood, 22nd District

State of the State

Governor Jennifer Granholm presented her third State of the State last week. In that address, she highlighted several of her administration's successes as well as new initiatives about health care, the environment, the economy, job creation, and education. She outlined a bold, forward-looking, and innovative plan for Michigan.

The Governor's agenda, anchored by the "Jobs Today, Jobs Tomorrow" initiative, will spread progress across the state. I am hopeful that there will be a bipartisan effort in the Legislature to work with the Governor to implement the proposals she outlined in the State of the State speech.

The highlights of the Governor's plan include:

- a $2-billion bond proposal, expected to create 72,000 jobs. The money would support cutting-edge research in fuel cells and other alternative energies, auto-related technology, and investment in new businesses. Because the bond proposal requires a constitutional amendment, the Governor wants the Legislature to act quickly and put the issue before voters this November.
- fast-track training, expected to fill jobs in the skilled trades and life sciences sectors. The Governor set a goal of 30,000 new hires of unemployed persons in the first year. She said those sectors have about 90,000 job vacancies, with needs expected to more than triple by 2012.
- a $4,000 scholarship for students who finish two years of university, community college, or technical programs. The first awards would go to students who graduate from high school in 2007.
- her support for raising the minimum wage from $5.15 an hour to $7.15 an hour, a move spearheaded by House Democrats. The Governor urged the Republican-led Legislature to support the wage raise, saying it would restore economic justice to Michigan's poorest workers.

Governor's Granholm's Executive Budget Proposal

On February 10, Governor Granholm presented her Executive Budget recommendation to the members of the Joint House and Senate Appropriations Committee.

The following are some highlights from the presentation.

- Medicaid reforms: Several proposals have been included to reduce Medicaid spending.

- A new line-item "Prisoner Reintegration Program" funded at $12.8 million: The line-item will assist the Department in its reentry program initiative, which focuses on successfully preparing an inmate for return to society from the moment he or she enters into the MDOC system. In addition, some of the funding will be used for a residential transitional housing program for mentally ill offenders.
- $22 million from the new Refined Petroleum Fund for cleanup of leaking underground storage tanks: The Fund was created last year in the revision of the Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assistance (MUSTFA) Program that extended the sunset on the collection of a 7/8-cent-per-gallon fee on the sale of refined petroleum products.
- Budget assumes that all 15 universities comply with the tuition restraint provisions in the bill: The provisions state that a university will not adopt an increase in resident undergraduate tuition and required fees greater than 5% or $307, whichever is greater, and that the university will not adopt any new type of student fees. Any university which does not comply would have its appropriations reduced by 6.3%.
- Tuition Incentive Program to be increased by $1.75-million to reflect projected increases in costs: This program provides need-based financial aid for Medicaid-eligible individuals.
- Per-pupil funding grant to be increased by $175 to $6,875 per pupil: This is an increase of 2.6%.
- An extra $50 for high-school students, bringing their total to $6,925 per pupil: This additional money will be awarded to schools that have implemented the Michigan scholar curriculum. □

RHS Seeks Genealogical Information

By Pearl Varner, director, Romulus Historical Museum

The Romulus Historical Society is looking for old family bibles that contain information about local births, marriages, and deaths. The family information should pertain to Romulus families or those from nearby communities. The bible does not have to be donated. You can bring it to the Romulus Historical Museum and a staff member will make a copy of the information.

For more information, or to participate in this program, please call the Museum office (734-942-2340) any Sunday between 1 and 4 p.m., or call 734-697-9628 or 734-941-6361.

The Romulus Historical Museum and the historic Samuel R. Kingsley house are currently home to genealogical material pertaining to Romulus families. There are several family histories in the collection, which has been donated to the City. Researchers are welcome.

The Museum is located on Hunt Street in downtown Romulus, next to the Romulus post office. It is open every Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. □

Workshop Featured Financial Aid Tips for College-bound

(From left) University of Michigan financial-aid director Pam Fowler and her assistant, LaNorris Alexander, were welcomed to Romulus High School by counseling staff members Florence Satterlee, Liza Mockeridge, Marilyn Hidenfelter, and LaToya Shackelford.

Pam Fowler, director of financial aid at the University of Michigan, and her assistant, LaNorris Alexander, recently presented their annual workshop on higher-education funding to college-bound Romulus High School students and their parents.

Fowler began this year's program by urging families to file scholarship and aid applications as early as possible because of serious budgetary limitations. Federal money currently available for grants and loans will be awarded on a first-come/first-served basis, so families who have not already done so should get in touch with the financial aid director at their college or university of choice right away.

According to Fowler, one funding program that has been adversely affected by recent legislation that raised income eligibility requirements is the Pell grant program. New requirements for the grants will result in an average reduction of about $200 to $400 per student per year, she said.

Fowler strongly recommends that families fill out the electronic version of the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) form this year.

"Electronic forms are processed within 10 days, whereas handwritten forms sent by mail take a month or more to process," she stated.

The FAFSA form – which must be turned in no later than March 1 – is used to determine the amount of money that each student's family is expected to pay toward his/her education, as well as the amount of financial assistance for which he/she is eligible. In addition to Pell grants (money that does not have to be repaid), financial-aid funds include Perkins loans and their higher-interest counterparts, Stafford loans.

Finally, Fowler discussed other sources of financial aid, including need- and merit-based scholarships, work-study programs (both governmental and institutional), and private loans.

Fowler reminded her audience that first-come/first-served strictures apply to other scholarship and aid sources, as well. Colleges, in particular, have only a fixed amount of money to award – and that amount is less than usual this year, in many cases.

For families concerned about repaying school loans and determining how much they can afford to borrow, Fowler cited studies suggesting that college students can handle up to $20,000 in loan debt. Borrowing such an amount, she said, would require loan payments of $275 to $300 per month for a period of 10 years.

Among those on hand to greet Fowler before the workshop began were RHS guidance staff members Florence Satterlee, Liza Mockeridge, and LaToya Shackelford.

Romulus High School's guidance staff welcomes questions about financial aid from students and their parents. For more information, contact them at 734-532-1020 weekdays between 7:45 a.m. and 3 p.m. □

RHS Robotics Team Begins Design-and-Build Process

Romulus High School's Eagles Robotics Team is already gearing up for the 2005 competition season. The team – which will compete in two regional events as well as the national championship – has already been notified of the rules for this year's contests, and has begun construction of a robot using the materials kit (motors, electrical wiring, nuts & bolts, etc.) provided to each participating team.

Once again, General Motors Powertrain is partnering with the RHS robotics team. GM engineers Kevin Gay, Doug Mayo, and Lisa Mayo will help students with the design and construction work, as will RHS staff members Jane Johnson, Andy Stewart, and Steven Grunik.

Last year, GM's generous sponsorship of the RHS team amounted to about $80,000 in entry fees, materials, and engineer time, and this year's sponsorship will probably exceed that amount. Students are working to raise their own money for travel and accommodation expenses for their trips to competition sites outside Michigan.

The RHS Eagles Robotics Team will take part in these competitions:

- Finger Lakes Regional (at the Rochester Institute of Technology in Rochester, New York) – March 2–6
- Great Lakes Regional (at Eastern Michigan University) – March 10–12
- National Championship (at Georgia Dome, Atlanta, Georgia). □

2004 Was Second-best Year in History of Detroit Metro Wayne County Airport

The numbers are in for calendar-year 2004, and total passenger traffic at Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport (DTW) increased by 7.5% over 2003.

DTW finished 2004 with a total of 35,187,517 passengers, topped only by aviation's record-breaking year of 2000, when Metro Airport handled 35,535,080.

"Our customers are back," said Lester Robinson, CEO of the Wayne County Airport Authority. "If we stay on our current pace, there is no question that 2005 will be Detroit's new record-breaking year."

"It's quite remarkable that this airport handled the equivalent of three times the population of the State of Michigan last year with very few problems," Robinson continued. (The U.S. Census Bureau estimates that the current population of Michigan is a little less than 10,080,000.)

Robinson believes that the figures are not just good news for the Airport, but also for its surrounding communities.

"Activity at the Airport generates an enormous number of jobs, and stimulates the tourism sector of our economy," he concluded. □

Barden Donation Funds Cory Trip to Ficano's Black History Program

Romulus grandparent John Barden (fourth from left) presented staff members and students at Cory Elementary School with a $150 check to cover the cost of bus transportation for a field trip to the Wayne County Building in Detroit. Also pictured are: (from left) front – Todd Graham, Macee Logerstedt, Faith Rhinehart, and Andrianna Barden; back – Phyllis Adkins (principal), Reverend Rita Talley (co-parent coordinator), and Janice Barden (co-parent coordinator).

Students at Cory Elementary School were able to attend an exciting and informative program commemorating Black History Month thanks to a generous donation from Romulus resident John Barden. Barden's gift of $150 covered the cost of bus transportation to and from Detroit's Wayne County Building, where WC Executive Robert Ficano hosted the County's annual Black History celebration on February 9.

"We are fortunate to have someone like John Barden help out and make our Black History Month at Cory better than ever," said principal Phyllis Adkins.

Ficano's program, attended by students from throughout Wayne County, was a big hit with the youngsters. Three floors of the old county building were filled with historical exhibits illustrating events of political and social importance, and talks given by well-known figures such as Thomas "Hit Man" Hearn and Detroit Lions defensive end Cory Redding provided students with personal perspectives that aren't usually found in textbooks.

Hearn, a champion boxer and father of five, told children that, with discipline and hard work, any goal can be reached. He urged parents and educators to stress that message.

"Adults must provide direction, give [kids] something to shoot for," he said. "We guide them, they'll do the right thing when they get older."

Ficano believes that lessons are particularly effective when they're given by an influential figure.

"Education is the key, especially when it's standing right in front of [you]," he said. □

Going for the green

What do you know about St. Patrick's Day? Here are some interesting facts.

- St. Patrick's Day, set aside to honor St. Patrick, was not his birthday; it was the day of his death.

- Besides being a religious holiday, St. Patrick's Day came to be thought of as the "arrival of spring." Cattle were led to pastures, and Irish farmers planted grain.

- In Ireland, St. Patrick's Day often features the old Gaelic sport of hurling. (It is something like our field hockey.)

- This day's symbol is a green shamrock. It looks like a clover, with three small leaves, and is called a trefoil.

- There is a town in Florida named Shamrock. Every year people send letters and cards there to be postmarked.

- What is a "Shillelagh"? It is an Irish symbol (and word) for a short, fat, oak club.

- Why picture an Irishman wearing a top hat and swinging a cane?

Irish countrymen used to wear a jaunty hat with a high crown, and white socks below tight knee britches.

- Below are some Irish-American traditional dishes:

- 1) Corned beef and cabbage;

- 2) Irish stew;

- 3) Irish soda bread;

- 4) Mulligatawny soup;

- 5) Mashed potatoes with shredded cabbage (Colcannon).

- The "leprechaun" legends are fascinating.

Most leprechauns are said to be rich and have bad tempers. They don't want to live near humans, but if you happen to capture one — don't let him out of your sight.

Why not? As a ransom, he might tell you where his "pot of gold" is buried.

Of course it's all in fun — so make a fun day of it! Happy St. Patrick's Day.

DID YOU KNOW?

WHEN EUROPEAN SAILORS DISCOVERED NEW ZEALAND, ITS INHABITANTS WERE CALLED MAORIS, A PEOPLE WHOSE DESCENDANTS HAD SETTLED THERE ABOUT A THOUSAND YEARS AGO. THEY HAD MADE THE VOYAGE FROM SAMOA (WHICH WAS ALMOST 2,000 MILES TO THE NORTH) IN CANOES.

IT IS BELIEVED THAT BIRDS HAVE DESCENDED FROM REPTILES AND THAT, THEY ARE, IN FACT, THE CROCODILE'S NEAREST LIVING RELATIVE.

ALTHOUGH SOCCER IS A MAJOR SPORT IN EUROPE AND SOUTH AMERICA, IT ALSO IS THE MOST POPULAR SPECTATOR SPORT IN THE COUNTRIES OF THE MIDDLE EAST!

Flyers Awards

The Romulus Flyers freshman football team coaches and players received certificates of recognition from Mayor Alan R. Lambert for winning the 2004 Downriver Junior Football League championship. Standing behind the players are (from left) assistant coaches Jerome Frayer, Dale Eddings, and Tom Kuderik; Mayor Lambert; and head coach Stephen Bednar.

Lambert also congratulated the Romulus Flyers cheerleaders and their coaches for a job well done in 2004.

John Wester (right), president of the Romulus Athletic Club, presented Mayor Lambert with a "Most Valuable Fan" award for "supporting the children of the City of Romulus." (All plaque and certificate presentations were made at Romulus City Hall on Saturday, February 5.)

Sassy Seniors

By Mary E. Clark

Special thanks to Linda Norman, senior citizens program coordinator for the City of Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation, for contributing information to this issue's "Sassy Seniors" column.

(For more information about events at Romulus Senior Center, located at 36515 Bibbins, call 734-955-4120.)

Limited Parking at the Center

Due to construction work on the City's new senior center, parking is at a premium right now, according to Linda Norman. The senior programs coordinator urges visitors to call ahead to check on parking availability, or to park at City Hall and call from there to arrange for a pickup.

Free Tax Preparation

From 12:30 to 3 p.m. each Wednesday between February 2 and April 13, the Romulus Senior Center will be offering free tax preparation services (by appointment only) to low-income Romulus seniors (age 60 and older). The service will also be available at Romulus Tower and Whispering Willows.

A list of materials which must be brought to the appointment will be provided at the time of registration. These materials will include:

- W-2 forms,
- Unemployment compensation statements,
- SSA-1099 interest/dividends statements,
- 1099R pension/annuity statements,
- forms showing income taxes paid,
- last year's tax forms.

For more information, or to make an appointment for tax service, call or stop in at the Center.

Wedding Replay

The Romulus Senior Center is inviting everyone to come in at noon on Tuesday, March 15, to watch a videotape of the recent "Norman Yorkies" wedding on the Center's 45"-screen TV. Light refreshments will be served.

Red Hat Society Meets

The Romulus Senior Center is now an official member of Red Hat Society Chapter #40741. Among the group's upcoming outings are the following:

- March 4 (Great Lakes Crossing; lunch),
- April 22 (lunch at McNasty's),
- May 6 (Southgate Theatre; lunch at Famous Dave's), and
- May 31 (Detroit Zoo).

For more information, please e-mail romulusredhatsociety@yahoo.com or call the Center.

March Luncheon Celebrates Both St. Patrick's Day and Easter

The Senior Center's next monthly luncheon will be a double treat, since it will celebrate both St. Patrick's Day and Easter. A mixed-up menu will include fare such as Irish stew (made with beef, not mutton) and deviled eggs.

Among the highlights of the get-together – set for 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, March 24 – will be a "match the pets to their owners" contest. Each senior is encouraged to bring in a picture of himself/herself, as well as a picture of a current or past pet, for the game.

Cost for the luncheon is just $3.50. Space is limited; sign up soon!

Haircuts

Just a reminder that the Center's haircut service has been cancelled for the months of February and March.

Regular Programs

Besides the many special activities offered at the Romulus Senior Center, a number of regularly scheduled free or low-cost programs are also open to local senior citizens, including:
